Technical Designer

Personal Statement

As a Technical Designer with 3 years experience in the games industry, I am a hardworking and passionate individual who excels when working in a team. I enjoy working in fast paced environments, contributing ideas and tackling problems with creative solutions. Most recently, during my time at Ubisoft I helped ship Avatar: Frontiers of Pandora as well as its two DLCs, The Skybreaker and Secrets of the Spires. While working here I have collaborated with many different disciplines all across the world.

Work Experience

Technical Designer - Ubisoft Leamington

July 2023 - Today

As a Technical Designer my main responsibilities are the creation of level design and gameplay ingredients, for which I am the point of contact. I have brought ingredients from the conception and prototype phase all the way through to a shippable quality.

I work most closely with level design, not only with the creation of ingredients, but assisting them with scripting and ensuring best practices are followed and helping them fix bugs in their quests.

I also regularly collaborate with many different disciplines such as: Gameplay Programmers, Level Designers, Audio, VFX, Cinematic and Narrative not just in my local studio but the lead studio and codevs across the world.

I have helped create cinematic sequences using Snowdrop's sequence editor as well as leading a small team that helped polish some dialogue sequences by teaching others to use these tools and providing feedback on their work.

As an intermediate I have also successfully onboarded junior members onto the team by providing them with written documentation detailing how to use tools used in the role and helping them with any questions they have.

Junior Technical Designer - Ubisoft Leamington

June 2022 - July 2023

Same as above.
